Break Out of Your Boundaries and Host!

Exchange doesn't recognize boundaries nor did our first blind YFU student. This YFU scholar knew that he did not need to see the world to experience it. In the YFU World, we have many exceptional students that are willing to challenge their own personal boundaries. Some of our incoming students have food or pet allergies, dietary restrictions or are vegetarians. Some students have non-life threatening health conditions that make them unique, but sometimes uniqueness unites us!

YFU USA is in search of families willing to extend their own boundaries so that these brave students can experience life in America. Students from Asia, Europe, Africa and South America are crossing their boundaries and arriving soon. Step out of your comfort zone and consider setting your family apart from the crowd by hosting one of our unique YFU students.

As one of the world's oldest and largest exchange organizations, YFU has provided study abroad opportunities to over 250,000 high school students for more than 60 years. Families around the world trust YFU because of our reputation for quality, high safety standards and strong support network.

All YFU Students:

- have their own medical insurance
- receive ongoing support in the US from their local volunteer representative
- have English language proficiency and received good grades
- are carefully selected through a rigorous application process
- participate in preparatory orientations before coming to the USA
- have their own spending money
